

Welcome to the LivingWell Cancer Resource Center, part of Northwestern Medicine, with locations in both Geneva and Warrentville. We offer 100-plus programs and services to support people with cancer and their loved ones as they navigate diagnosis, treatment and recovery.

All of our programs services are free of charge and available to anyone impacted by a cancer diagnosis regardless of where medical treatment is received.

Programs and services include individual and group counseling; culinary, fitness, yoga and art classes; medical presentations; support groups; touch therapy (massage, facials, reflexology, reiki); and more.

“At LivingWell, the support we provide to patients with cancer and their families is a reprieve from medical treatments, testing and the clinical environment. It is a resource that allows those impacted by cancer to catch their breath and get the time and tools they need to adjust to their new normal,”

— Angela McCrum, Director, LivingWell Resource Center
